

Doctor's Hospital at Renaissance

Edinburg, Texas

Why DHR?

Doctor's Hospital at Renaissance (DHR) in Edinburg, Texas is the first emergency medicine residency in South Texas. Serving more than 1 million residents along the U.S. and Mexico border, DHR is the premier tertiary care referral center in the Rio Grande Valley. DHR is a Level I Trauma Center, a comprehensive stroke center, accredited chest pain center, and has a maternal level 4 designation. With the region's largest emergency department, residents gain extensive hands-on experience caring for a high-acuity, diverse patient population in a dynamic learning environment.
